JAMES HIGGINS WAS SERIOUSLY INJURED

Nine Year Old Lad Struck by an Automobile This Forenoon is on Dangerous List at Hospital

While on his way to school shortly after 8 o'clock this morning, James Higgins, aged 9 years, of 134 Lakeview avenue, was knocked down and run over by an automobile truck owned by the D. L. Page company and driven by a man named John Locke, of 23 Bowes street. The boy was taken to St. John's hospital where it was learned that he had sustained four fractured ribs.

The accident occurred at the corner of Bridge and West Fourth streets, where it was said that his chances for recovery were slight.

THE ABOLITION OF GRADE CROSSINGS

At Middlesex and Fletcher Sts.
Meets With Opposition — Railroads Can't Afford Expense

The matter of abolishing the grade crossings at Middlesex and Fletcher streets was taken up in court at East Cambridge this forenoon by City Solicitor J. Joseph Hennessy, who presented a petition asking the court to appoint a commission to look into the advisability of abolishing the said crossings, which are the only ones in this city, and which are a menace to the public in general. The railroad companies, however, are opposed to this project and through their counsels, Messrs. Coolidge and Hight for the Boston & Maine and E. W. Hall for the Lowell & Nashua railroad, stand that the companies were not in a financial condition to abolish the said crossings. The attorney general of the commonwealth, James M. Swift, is in favor of the petition and he has sent a letter to that effect to the city solicitor.

Attorney General's Letter

The commonwealth of Massachusetts is in favor of abolishing these crossings, and a good proof of this is the following letter which was sent to Mr. Hennessy by the attorney general:

Boston, Mass., Sept. 10, 1913.

J. Joseph Hennessy,
City Solicitor, Lowell, Mass.

Dear Sir:

In the matter of your decision for the appointment of a commission in the grade crossing matter about which you wrote me on August 30, I have to say that I do not intend to countersue your motion, in fact the commission should be appointed. If you will be good enough to send me a list of names of the men you desire to have appointed, or whom you desire to submit for my agreement, I shall be pleased to see if we cannot agree upon them.

Yours respectfully,

Jas. M. Swift, Atty. Gen.

Hildreth Cemetery Matter

A petition for an injunction to stop the city treasurer from selling the Hildreth cemetery for taxes, was presented at the session of the court of equity held in Boston this morning, and after the petition was filed it was agreed by both counsels that the matter should go over until next Friday for a hearing.

Warren W. Fox represented the petitioners and City Solicitor J. Joseph Hennessy appeared for the city treasurer. In return said there was a great demand

Demand for Abolition

Mr. Coolidge of the Boston & Maine stated in opposition that the road is not in a financial condition to undertake such a large proposition, and furthermore he said there is no demand by Lowell for the abolition of the said crossings. Mr. Hall spoke about on the same line. The solicitor in turn said there was a great demand

POLICE COURT CASES

A young woman by the name of Lena Worsagnakalaz did not approve of gentlemen callers who called upon her as early as 11 o'clock at night. She was given the shoes by a man for whom he had cleaned out a cellar. He was not arrested at the time but told to report at the police station where the other man was in a position to state whether or not he had given the shoes in question to Slattery.

The defendant, however, while he did not show up that night and yesterday was the first time that he has been in these parts since Inspector Walsh saw him at the Market street station when the charge of larceny was preferred.

The trial did not take up much time this morning, however, as both entered a plea of guilty. Michael was found not guilty of robbery striking the girl and he was set off with a fine of $5, but his partner received a suspended fine of $10.

Shoes Placed

The case of John Slattery, accused of stealing a pair of shoes from Samuel J. Taylor, gave the court officers a laugh. John is an old offender for drunkenness but was never charged with larceny before.

The complainant told the court that the defendant was familiar with his barn and knew where he kept his shoes. On the morning of July 23, said the witness, the shoes were missed from their usual place. He immediately gave in the word to the police, and Slattery was apprehended the next day.

The shoes, defendant alleged, had been pawned at a Middlesex street place of business but his contention was that he had been given the shoes by a man for whom he had cleaned out a cellar.

He was not arrested at the time but told to report at the police station where the other man was in a position to state whether or not he had given the shoes in question to Slattery.

The defendant, however, while he did not show up that night and yesterday was the first time that he has been in these parts since Inspector Walsh saw him at the Market street station when the charge of larceny was preferred.

Judge Enright allowed the defendant to leave the court room after he promised to pay the probation officer a suspended fine of $10.

Wife Beaten Sentenced

Arthur W. Bevins paid the penalty this morning for cruelty to his sick wife when he faced Judge Enright on a charge of drunkenness. Bevins lives in Littley avenue and has been having a rather gay time lately. His wife is sickly, fat, slow and the defendant has had a fine, raw, beating her periodically.

Last night theistic massage administered by Bevins was more than the good woman could stand, and her husband was subjected to arrest. The court sent him away to jail for four months without wasting much time on his case.

Emma Wasn't Tipsy

Emma Fenton said that she was not drunk last night, why of course she wasn't drunk. What kind of a woman did the court take her? Emma Fenton, to be yes, she might have had a few bottles of beer but whiskey was the only beverage that would intoxicate one, wasn't it? Well, of course, if beer would do it why, maybe she was drunk but she never had looked at it in that way before. Thus spake the lady when questioned by the court as to her conduct last night in Dracut.

Officers Garland and Cunningham made the arrest and both testified that the woman was drunk and making a disturbance in the neighborhood. As it was her first time in court the defendant was let down with a $2 fine.

Assault and Battery

The case of William Horan, charged with assault and battery upon John Sidney, which came up on continuance from last Saturday was settled today.

Horan was found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $12. Mary Armstrong was given a suspended sentence of five months to the house of correction for drunkenness.

Sideman Sidesteps

Benjamin Sideman, charged with being a common drunkard, was released upon probation. Sideman has three children and his wife said that he was a peddler by profession. He drinks all the time, testified the wife, and comes home with so much red liquor tucked under his belt that he thinks he is a "White Hope."

WRECK ENGINEER HELD IN $500

August Miller, Who Figured in New Haven Wreck in Which 21 Were Killed, Charged With Manslaughter

NEW HAVEN, Sept. 15.—August Miller, engineer of the White Mountain express, which wrecked the Bar Harbor express on the morning of Sept. 3 at North Haven, was arrested this noon on a bench warrant obtained by State's Attorney Alling and presented before the superior court charged with manslaughter. In the wreck 21 persons lost their lives and two score were injured; eleven still remain in hospitals here. Miller pleaded "not guilty" and his bond was fixed at $500, the same amount which was provided by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers after Coroner Mix had ordered his arrest pending an inquest.

Miller's arrest preceded the filing by the coroner of his report of his "private" inquiry. For this reason it was not known when Miller was arraigned whether or not Flagman C. H. Murray of the Bar Harbor train, who has been under a bond furnished by the railroad company was to be brought before the court. State's Attorney Alling declined to say whether there would be additional arrests. The coroner's office did not expect the finding would be made a matter of record until late in the afternoon.

Lowell Won N. E. League Pennant by Wide Margin--"Big Four" Who Directed Champions

PRES. ANDREW F. ROACH

MANAGER JAS. J. GRAY

SEC. JOHN H. CULL

CAPT. HARRY AUBREY

The New England league season has come to a close, and Lowell has been returned the winner by a wide margin. Eight full games separate the Portland team, which stands second in the race, from the club which has represented our city. That Lowell would win the pennant we never doubted, even in the dark days during the beginning of diamond activities when we were being run down to defeat by single run decisions. In fact the Sun has run the only newspaper around the circuit which has condoned Lowell for the season's pennant.

Now that the silver trophy has been won, and the past season series is at hand it would not be amiss to take a look around in an endeavor to appreciate just why Lowell did win the pennant.

Gray Like Concrete Jack

To begin with the local team had the experience of Manager Jimmy Gray who has once before pushed up a pennant winner. Manager Gray as once before mentioned in these columns studies the games along the same lines as does Connie Mack, the famous leader of the Athletics. He never does a split and so his voice is heard by the spectators, but his players place more dependence upon his nod than the Worcester club does to Burkett's most explosive exclamations. Gray is a manager who is always on the job, who never missed anything material to the winning of a game and for whom his players will do their utmost. This, we consider, was the greatest factor in bringing the tag to Lowell.

BOSTON BALL PLAYERS FINED

Maranville and Myers, With Manager Tinker of Cincinnati, Were Ordered to Ante for Fight

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 15.—Major and minor league magnates and others interested in the drafting of players by major league clubs from minor leagues were present when the national baseball commission began its annual meeting here today. The members of the commission are:

August Hermann, chairman; President Thomas Lynch of the National League and President Ban Johnson of the American League. When the members of the commission were in session more drafts had been entered than in any year since the national agreement went into effect.

It was reported that the commission would discuss a new plan for drafting players which would give the advantage to the second division teams in the major leagues and help them to build up. At present all clubs in the big leagues have an equal advantage. The first division clubs may put in as many drafts as the second division teams and they have an equal chance to draw the players desired.

Tonight the directors of the National League will meet to review the protest of the New York club of the National League with regard to the New York-Philadelphia game of Aug. 30, which was forfeited to New York by Umpire Brennan and later awarded to the Philadelphia club by President Lynch.

Players Fined For Fighting

President Lynch announced today that he had fined both Manager Tinker of the Cincinnati club and Shortstop Maranville of the Boston club $50 and First Baseman Myers, also of the Boston team, $100 for fighting on the field during the first game of the doubleheader here last Saturday. Tinker was suspended three days for using abusive language to Umpire O'Day.

Change In Rules

Just before the commission went into session, Chairman Hermann announced that the rule of procedure in the drafting of players would be changed. Instead of the old way of placing in a hat the names of major league clubs who had entered drafts for the same player of a class A or AA club and confining the selection to the player named, the winner in the lottery would be given a lot to choose any player from that club on which drafts had been made by any club. The old rule provided that only one player could be selected from one club and that the winner in the drawing could only obtain the man for whom it had entered a draft.

According to the statement of Rev. Fr. Galligan this morning, the officers for the event have been chosen as follows:

General Manager, Rufus C. Flood; assistant, Fred M. Burns; floor director, Thomas H. Boyle; entertainment committee, John Condon, James Morrison, Frank Foye, James Hennessy, refreshment committee, Frank J. Campbell, James Morrison, William Hennessy, John Barrett and George P. Greene.

Rev. James R. Lynch, who has been assistant at St. Margaret's church during the summer in the absence of Rev. Henry C. Rorland, the latter having made an extended trip abroad, has been appointed assistant rector of St. Mary's church, Ayer, where Rev. Fr. Sheedy is pastor. Rev. Fr. Rorland, who returned to Lowell a fortnight ago, has resumed his duties at the church. He was greatly benefited by his ocean voyage.

The Sunday school of the church opened yesterday afternoon, the classes being held in the church itself.

St. Michael's

The work of building the new organ in St. Michael's church is going ahead rapidly but as to the time of its completion and the resumption of the high masses, no definite word may yet be given. It was estimated this morning that the work may take about ten days longer.

Immaculate Conception—St. Patrick's

A meeting of the Holy Name society of the Church of the Immaculate Conception was held last night and considerable business of importance was transacted. A meeting of the Immaculate Conception sodality is scheduled to be held on Tuesday evening.

Rev. Fr. Kerrigan was the celebrant of the high mass yesterday morning at 11 o'clock at St. Patrick's church while Rev. Fr. Curtin preached on the gospel of the day. He also announced the opening of the Sunday schools and spoke upon the necessity of regular attendance.

The Lyceum is preparing for a season of great activity. At present plans for a tournament of games with the Holy Name society of St. Patrick's are now under way. Several committees have been appointed to make arrangements for various athletic and social events.

It is said that the club will be represented by a record billiards team this coming season.

Executive meetings have been made at the rooms, including the repairing of the billiard and pool tables.

The annual Lawrence night has been set for October 16, and this it is be-the forming of a debating club and as this has been considered by other similar organizations, the benefits of such clubs are evident. It will probably be

THE FOOTBALL SEASON TO OPEN

Carlisle Indian-Albright College
Game Next Saturday—1914
Expected to be Record Season

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Another international sport competition will be added to the already lengthy list of 1913, with the playing of the United States open golf championship tournament at Brookline, Mass., next week. Owing to the entry of several of the leading professionals of England and France, the tournament has attracted unusual interest this year and elaborate arrangements are being made to accommodate a record entry and gallery during the four days of play at the Country club course. So keen is the desire to witness the foreign players in competition with the best of America's professionals that the original arrangements for the tournament had to be revised in order to meet the new demands.

According to the latest estimates, more than 150 entrants are assured and a daily gallery in excess of 6000 will follow the players, providing favorable weather conditions prevail. The presence of Wilfrid Reid, Harry Vardon, Edward Hay and Christopher Callyer, representing England, and Louis Tellier and Arnaud Massy of France, is likely to prove a great drawing card for both entrants and spectators. In order to provide for this unusual entry elimination rounds will be played on Monday and Tuesday. Those players who qualify with the best thirty-two scores and those tied for thirty-second place will proceed to the championship rounds to be played on Wednesday and Thursday.

The open championship dates back to the organization of the United States Golf Association in 1895, and tournament of next week will be the nineteenth annual play for the title. Willie Anderson won in 1901-03-04-05, and J. L. McDowell in 1911-12. Alex. Smith won in 1907 and 1910. These were the only players to capture the championship more than once. Harry Vardon, the present British entrant, won the title in 1909, when the tournament was played at Wheaton, Ill. In view of the failure of the American professionals in their invasion of England and France last spring, the efforts of the English and French players to retain this advantage on strange links will be watched with more than ordinary interest.

Look For Record Year

The possibilities of 1914 as a record year in sport is considerably brightened by the final signing and sealing of the agreement for a series of races for the America's cup during the month of September. It cannot be denied that the negotiations between the New York and Royal Ulster Yacht clubs were conducted upon ticklish grounds, and not until the final compact was signed was the cup contest assured. Now that the last doubt regarding the yachtling classic is removed there are busy sessions ahead for designers, yachtsmen and many other actors in what will undoubtedly be the chief international sport of the coming year.

It is understood that the plans for Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger, Shamrock IV, are about completed and that the keel of the seventy-five footer will be laid within the next month or six weeks. Three and possibly four defenders, all seventy-five foot yachts, are projected at the present time, and it may be that this number will be still further augmented if the plans of certain wealthy followers of yachtling materialize. It is proposed to have all these yachts in condition for the trial race preliminaries early next summer in order that there may be ample time for the tuning up and testing which play such an important part in all America's cup races.

In the meantime numerous plans are being made to accommodate spectators along the New Haven and Long Island shores and off Sandy Hook, where the International regatta will be staged. The charding of large excursion steamers for use during the month of September, 1914, has already begun and it is expected that the excursion fleet will carry 50,000 spectators to the scene of the races each day. The early tuning up off New York and Sandy Hook also will attract many yachtlings. Special arrangements for reporting the trials and races by wireless are already under way and the United States navy may be asked to help in this department or the regatta.

BUNTINGS' TIE WITH CHAMPS
Light Blues of Manchester Held to 3-3 Score—Bertwistle and Clegg the Stars

The Bunting and the Light Blues of Manchester, last year's champions, played a great game of soccer Saturday at the South Lowell grounds with the score at three goals each when time was called.

The local team played an aggressive game from the kickoff and scored the first goal of the contest after 17 minutes of play. The first half ended with the score 3 to 1 in favor of the Bunting, who had the advantage of the wind in this period.

The Light Blues, however, were not to be denied and still two more goals into the net in the second half, although the Lowell players fought hard to avert a tie. The wind proved a greater factor in the second half than in the first.

Taking into consideration the fact that the Light Blues presented practically the same team Saturday that won the championship last year, the Bunting should be very proud of their performance. The Bunting team, taken as a whole, looks much stronger than it did last season. The Hup-

LOCAL BATTERS TAP SHOEMAKERS

Slugging Contest Won by the Champions—Wood Pitches a Steady Game—Aubrey Stars

Lowell closed the 1913 New England league baseball season Saturday afternoon at Spaulding Park when the Brockton Shoemakers went down to Halstein. Chaney was thrown out by Wood. Maloney beat out a bunt. Dowd singled to left, advancing Maloney to second. Daly dropped McMahon's fly, but caught Dowd at third when he threw to DeGroot. DeGroot was forced to steal second. DeGroot was tagged out.

Wood grounded out. Daly to Maloney. Chaney beat out an infield grounder, but was out trying to steal second.

Score: Lowell 16, Brockton 3.

YELLE AND BROOKS

Well Known Boxers to Meet in This City—Hampton and Tibbets Have Been Re-matched

The Lowell Athletic club has arranged another free show for its members Friday evening. Last week's show was one of the best ever staged in Lowell. It is the intention of the management to put on nothing but the best of shows. For the main bout the matchmaker has secured Fred Yelle of Taunton, one of the best lightweights of New England, against Terry Brooks of New York. Yelle is no stranger to Lowell fans as he was introduced here at one of last year's meetings. Yelle has a victory to his credit over Hay Wood, who was considered a sensation last year. The bout should be of the whirlwind order as Brooks is one of the most aggressive fighters in the game. He will be remembered for his great bout with Young Jasper last year. He has also met Frankie Mack on two different occasions, one of which resulted in a win for Brooks and the other a victory for Mack. The winner has been promised a match with Frankie Mack. The semi-final bout will introduce Barney Williams of Lawrence and Henry Burke of South Boston. At the conclusion of many young fighters and kids, Hamilton have been re-matched. One other six-round preliminary will complete the card. Adv.

Soccer Notes

The appearance of the referees in blue uniforms was an added feature to the game. A uniform dress for the officials is sure to prove a match added dignity to the league.

Bertwistle is the same reliable player as in the past. Clegg played up to great advantage in Saturday's contest.

Aleck Black was the big feature in the Methuen-Beverly game. Black scored four goals for the Beverly club and could have won the game by his offensive work alone.

PROSPERITY AHEAD

The condition of business in New York may be taken as fairly representative of the condition of business throughout the country, and this being so, there is every indication of prosperity ahead, despite the croakers who say that according to the croakers was to bring disaster in its train. Buyers from the west and south crowd New York at the present time. The crop money which was largely furnished by the larger New York banks will soon be coming back in payment for goods that are being widely distributed. Unless merchants believe in the ability of the people to pay for these goods business would be dull, but their confidence is reflected in the unusually large orders placed with the wholesale manufacturers.

At no time during the precarious tariff revision did business assume alarmingly depressed proportions, but still there was a great deal of caution and a widespread desire to keep stock at the lowest possible ebb. Merchandise is still low everywhere and must be immediately replenished. Consequently the new orders coming in are larger than usual for them at supplying a large deficit and are piled up in readiness for an unusual run of prosperity. New York professes to be greatly surprised as is shown by the following extract from a dispatch to the Cincinnati Enquirer:

"Another thing which the presence of these buyers has brought to notice, and of which frequent mention is made, is that notwithstanding tariff and currency agitation, notwithstanding politics, business and industry of all kinds in the United States, are advancing steadily and magnificently. It is when great groups of buyers visit New York, or Boston, or Philadelphia, or Chicago, that there does come a faint realization of the wonderful opulence of the United States. Some of our ablest bankers and most successful business men confess that they are unable fully to appreciate the stupendous prosperity and power of the people of the United States."

The "stupendous" prosperity and power of the people of the United States was never more apparent than at present and this because of the fact that prosperity depends far less on politics than most people imagine. When a large body of our people desire any reform, those opposed to that reform cry out in horror at the great evil which will be done. They strive to create the impression that the country has been prosperous or the contrary because of the wisdom or otherwise of those in power politically. They do not see or at least they do not profess to see that all the politics of the country cannot do away with the need for food and clothes and while that need exists business must cater to it. Prosperity is not made in the stock markets or in congress though undoubtedly both the stock markets and congress have their effect on it. Possibly there was a time when business was dependent more than it is at present on stock manipulation. At present the order is reversed and the stock market is more often a reflex of business in general than a motive power in affecting prosperity.

Even the most violent enemies of the tariff cannot do more now than whisper in the faintest terms of coming adversity. Everything betokens prosperity. Crops are good, manufacturing is brisk; orders are coming in thickly from all over the country to the industrial centers. The year 1913 will not be written black in our industrial history.

LET HER IN

Mrs. Pankhurst, the English lady whose name is associated with more crime committed in the cause of woman suffrage than that of any other living—or dead—female, intends to visit us about the middle of October and stay a month or so. Quite naturally the immigration authorities which barred Cipriano Castro and some other violent individuals are concerned at the propriety of letting her land on these shores. It is to be hoped that they will decide in her favor. She richly deserves any official rebuke in our power to offer, but no good would be gained by refusing her admittance. She has already been crowned with the aureole of martyrdom by her fanatical followers and our refusal to admit her would automatically bring her sympathy which she does not deserve. In justice to her, it must be said that she has shown signs of returning reason recently and a visit here might show her the comparative benefit to be derived from campaigns of sense and dignity as compared with her deeds and counsels of violence.

When she returns to England she may find it advisable to put in force the lessons of prudence and dignity learned from her American sisters—if American suffragettes will allow the relationship.

NO SURE INDICATION

The success of a republican candidate in the third Maine district and the almost absolute failure of the progressive party there does not indicate that the soldiers of Armageddon are about to return to the republican fold in Massachusetts. Much of the reason for the Maine result lay with purely local politics, and it cannot be made an augury for the coming struggle here. Massachusetts progressives have a much stronger candidate and though the returns may show some falling away they will not show such a complete collapse as indicated by the results of the Maine election.

FOR THE MEN

Said Mrs. A. to Mr. A.: "I called on Mrs. B. today. And, oh, she has such lovely clothes! I wish I had them, heaven knows! I've hardly got a thing that's fit to crawl around in. Think of it! I try to make my old clothes do because I've some regard for you. I often wonder what you'd say if I should go and spend the way that others do," said Mrs. A.

Said Mrs. B. to Mr. B.: "You're mighty lucky to have me to be your wife. Poor Mr. A! His wife gets clothes most every day. I like my suits and house gowns, too. But I'm considerate of you. She doesn't care if she's a bit. How hard her husband's purse is hit! I stink myself as you can see; You're mighty lucky to have me; I try to save," said Mrs. B.

Moral: "Woman's Home Companion.

"It is a great thing to have a reputation as a hero," sighed the man who hesitated to run into the thick of danger, "but I think, for my part, I would rather be a centenarian."

SUFFRAGWOCKY

"Was suffrage and the militants did jibe and jabbered; "Back-numbers" were the antis, as well as "Hottentots."

"Beware the bogie-man, my child! Creator of our ills: He is not earthy use. Except to pay our bills."

And as in pankhurst thought she stood. All in a Belmont mood. Whithorn came with eyes a-flame And drummond through the wood.

She had her cristobel in hand, With brannan axe and pen. She snote and stabbed the bogie-man Again and yet again.

One, two! One, two! And through and through. Her brannan axe went snicker-snack!

And then along came politics To put her on the back.

And hast thou slain the bogie-man? Come to my arms, my cristobel! We'll go to jail, and the bogie-man We'll go to—well!"

"Was suffrage and the militants did jibe and jabbered; "Back-numbers" were the antis, as well as "Hottentots."

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Why Hearst

Newburyport Herald: Hearst still comes up as a big question mark in the New York municipal campaign. One is tempted to ask why he should figure so prominently. One will find it difficult to discover what real constructive political work William Randolph Hearst has ever done.

The Comic Side

Fall River Globe: If the comedy features of the Thaw affair are ever staged—as they probably will be—they will furnish a wealth of material for a clever satirist with which to construct a good farce. Really, in a series of soles import have there been so many amusing situations and sudden shifts of the scene from the grave to the ridiculous than this one has supplied, and the end is not yet.

The trials and adventures of the Wandering Jew were not in it with the experiences this crack-brained fugitive has been through in the past few weeks of his stolen liberty.

Suzier's Course

Providence Tribune: Now that competent authority has ruled that the impeachment of Governor Suzier is valid, and that it automatically deprives him of the powers of governor until he is acquitted, there is absolutely nothing for him to do but to meet the issue squarely like a man if he still makes any claim of to be one.

Major Gaynor

Portland Express: The news of the death of Major Gaynor came as a distinct shock. The public generally did not know that the major's health was even undermined. He has been a prominent character in the public eye for very many years. Like all men in high public service, he has his critics and at times has been open to criticism, but in the whole, I think, the estimate of the major is a favorable one. It is evident from his history that he acted in public matters up to the best light that he had, always striving to do well the part he had to do.

Plaids for Elliott

New York Herald: Howard Elliott, the new president of the New Haven railroad, has addressed to the public plain, straightforward statement of what he is doing to restore to a state of efficiency the great system under his control.

Mr. Elliott cannot be blamed for the accident which recently horrified the country. He is entitled to the support of the press and public, and if the journalistic critics of the New Haven realized the extent to which their attacks are tending to further increase the demoralized condition of the road's personnel they would hold their pens in check and give Mr. Elliott a chance.

Fire Perils

Manchester Mirror: To the average man living in a town where there is moderately good fire department the fire perils are the least of his troubles. Why should he bother if the servant puts live coals into a wooden barrel? The firemen can get there before the blaze has ascended from the basement, and at the last resort, there is the insurance company. At least, so he thinks.

House and Barn

Wiped Out by Fire in North Billerica—Battling Blazed While the Family Dressed

A house and barn owned and occupied by Nicholas Connolly and located on Pollard street, North Billerica, was totally destroyed by fire early yesterday morning. A small part of the furniture was saved by the members of the family who were awakened by the noise.

The blaze broke out in the rear part of the house and was first discovered by Mr. Connolly who aroused the other members of the family. Before they were able to dress, the buildings were a mass of flames, a stove and some chairs were all that could be saved.

An alarm was sent into the North Billerica fire department about 1:30 o'clock, but before the fire fighters arrived at the fire the barn and rear part of the house were burned to the ground and the main part of the house was blazing furiously.

The house was built about 260 years ago, at the same time as the historic Manning Manse but had been renovated since that time. Both buildings and furniture were partly covered by insurance.

Fire at Billerica Centre

About 9 o'clock yesterday morning the fire department from Billerica Centre where a blaze had started in a chimney and no damage was done.

The early mass at St. Andrew's church yesterday morning was celebrated by Rev. Edward Fox, O. M. I. of the Oblate Novitiate in Tewksbury. Rev. Fr. Fox also delivered the sermon at the 10 o'clock mass, which was celebrated by Rev. Edmund Correll, O. M. I. pastor of the church.

The Ladies' Missionary circle of the North Billerica Baptist church, will meet tonight at the home of Mrs. Archibald Ritchie on Wilson street. The topic for discussion will be "Laying the Foundation for World Wide Missions."

All ladies are cordially invited to be present. The meeting will be opened at 7:30 o'clock.

latter direction now. The passage of the tariff bill by a senate which was expected to fall in its power to block measures indicated to the president found the means to carry his point. What more could be asked of the most practical of politicians?

New Dances

Brockton Enterprise: Some musicians who play at dances in Boston and elsewhere have taken strong ground against some of the modern dances. Bandmaster Sousa, however, takes the ground that the turkey trot, for one is all right and "conducive to longevity." Dancing the trot in places where most of such dances take place we should be more inclined to think exclusively in an early collapse, physical, mental and moral.

Supreme Poly.

Woonsocket Call: Collisions between motor cars and railroad trains time uncheck. Nearly all of them have been unnecessary. If drivers would only stop, look and listen many lives would be saved in the course of a year. Trying to shave a steam locomotive is a supreme act of human folly.

DECREASE IN SHIPWRECKS

Due to Issuance of Hurricane Warnings

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Hurricane warnings issued by the United States weather bureau have resulted in a marked decrease in shipwrecks in recent years despite the great increase in shipping. This is the declaration of the department of agriculture which today called the attention of mariners to the fact that the season is now at hand when hurricanes may be expected on the eastern coast of the United States.

During the last 35 years, the statement adds, "about 66 per cent of these storms have occurred during the months of August, September and October, showing a slightly greater number than any of the others."

THE FIRM THAT DOES THINGS OUT OF THE BEATEN PATH

WITH THE LOCAL FRATERNITIES

Various Societies Start on Activities of Social Season—Foresters and Buffaloes Quite Active

The fraternities of this city are starting upon the activities of the winter and everything indicates a busy and successful season.

Benevolent Order of Buffalo

Lowell herd, No. 10, Benevolent Order of Buffalo is one of the most active fraternities in this city at the present time. Since its organization on December 8, 1912, when it started with 21 members it has grown steadily and now has a membership of 168 men. Applications are still being sent into the order and a big initiation is being planned for the near future. At the recent state convention held in Worcester the three Lowell delegates were elected to responsible offices and through their efforts the 1913 convention has been promised to the local herd. Dr. Plunkett of this lodge has been elected supreme physician and is also one of the badge physicians in this city. In case of a deficiency in the treasury of the Lowell herd they are backed up by the supreme lodge and it said that the Buffalo order is the only one in this state that does business in this way.

The officers of the society are: Past president, W. J. Pendersett; president, J. E. Hughes; vice president, G. D. Cawell; chaplain, J. R. McLean; secretary, J. E. Lytle; treasurer, W. W. Murphy; marshal, Robert Dempsey; insignia, Daniel Murray; outside guard, F. A. Crossley; trustees, Jesse D. Crook, H. J. Draper, and E. A. Sheridan.

Maritime Provincians Club

The Maritime Province club is comprised of men who were born or formerly lived in any of the three provinces and at the present time has over 150 members. It was instituted in a small workshop on Princeton street with seven charter members but since the membership has increased it now occupies quarters in Odd Fellows temple. During its existence many social events have been carried out and all have met with great success. A successful outing was recently held at a nearby grave and over 80 members were present and took part in the sports and other events. Entertainments are given after the regular business meeting which are held on the first and third Fridays of each month and it is planned to have John R. MacDanald, Esq., of Nova Scotia lecture at a meeting in the near future.

The officers of the Maritime club are: President, William A. Kelley; Vice president, James Ahearn; financial secretary, Albert McDougal; treasurer, Arthur Trainor; recording secretary, Frank Carragher; historian, Captain James Whalen; inner guard, Peter Hogan; outer guard, Thomas Osborne; trustees, Henry Hogan, James McDougal and John McEachern.

Elect Lodge, N. E. O. P.

The members of Elkin Lodge, N. E. O. P. are planning on a very busy winter and already several state officers have promised to attend the meetings and address the members on the lodge work. The lodge meets on the first and third Thursdays of each month at Veritas hall on Broad street and each meeting the entertainment committee spring a surprise on the members. The membership at the present time is in the vicinity of 150 and many visitors are present at the meetings, as Elkin Lodge always welcomes members of the N. E. O. P. from other lodges. The local order was organized 25 years ago last December and at that time its anniversary was celebrated as well as the 25th anniversary of the N. E. O. P.

The officers of the Elkin Lodge are: Past warden, Mrs. Elizabeth Chadwick; warden, Mrs. Dora A. Chase; vice warden, Fred Timmins; secretary, Mrs. Hattie A. Burrows; financial secretary, A. Christabelle Burrows; treasurer, Mrs. Rita J. Bowen; guide, F. E. Fisher; guardian, Harry C. Gordon; sentinel, Miss Nellie McLaughlin; chaplain, Miss Anna Hirsh.

SON HELD FOR MURDER PREDICTED HER DEATH AUTOS IN COLLISION

Fatal End to Quarrel With Father

BOSTON, Sept. 15.—Medical Examiner Leary will report to a justice of the Roxbury court his findings made after an autopsy on the body of George W. Brown, 111 Magnolia street, whose death followed a quarrel with his son, Edgar M. Brown, at their residence late Saturday night.

Brown's death was due to hemorrhage of the brain, which the police allege may have been caused by a blow. The son was placed under arrest directly after the death of the elder Brown.

The argument which led up to the quarrel is alleged to have started when the son came home at a late hour and commenced to play the phonograph, to which the father objected.

Edgar M. Brown, who is held at the Dudley street police station, told the Dudley street police station, told his side of the story to Captain Goodwin and Police Inspector Denhassy yesterday.

He said he and a friend were in the house playing a phonograph for amusement when his father got out of bed and objected to the noise. It is alleged that he pushed his father from the room and continued the music. Later it is declared, that after his guest departed he went into his father's room to remonstrate with him about the interruption. According to the police his father, after a discussion, became angry and ordered him to leave the house.

Regarding just what happened after these three different stories are told, the police say the son declares that with the fat of his hand he pushed his father down on to the bed. His mother's story is that he placed his hands on his father's shoulders and pushed him down, but according to the police his sister-in-law states that he struck his father in the jaw with his fist.

It was learned yesterday from a friend of the elder Brown who worked with him, that he had not been at all well on Saturday and that on his friend's inquiring as to what was the trouble he had answered that he was not feeling very well. He was 62 years old. For the past 12 years he had been in failing health and it is said that he had a weak heart.

The deceased was born in London, England, and came to this country at the age of 15. Shortly after his arrival here he obtained a position with a large dry goods house where he had been ever since.

At a late hour last night Edgar M. Brown was released under $500 bail.

PLAN M. T. L. BANQUET

Will be Big Anniversary Event For Society—Winter Season to be an Extremely Busy One

The members of the Mathew Temperance Institute held a well attended meeting at their rooms yesterday morning. The banquet committee reported everything in readiness for the event. The spiritual director, Rev. Dr. Keeler, has invited Rev. Fr. Coddell of No. Billerica to be the principal speaker on that occasion. The others will include the mayor, Dr. Keeler, and Thomas A. Farmer of Lynn, the latter the probation officer of that city. The banquet will be held at the headquarters in Central street. A membership contest will be opened by the Mathews at an early date.

The Mathews are preparing for a particularly active winter season and even now the membership is considerably larger and the interest keen. The membership campaign is expected to benefit the society by an even greater increase. Many plans are on foot for an extremely busy social season.

Girl Was Victim of Motor Cycle Accident

Woman Killed and Two Others Injured

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Sept. 15.—An hour after Miss Bessie Schriener, a member of a widely known family and socially prominent through Schuylkill county jokingly predicted that she would not come back alive from a trip on a motorcycle, she had received fatal injuries at Mt. Carbon and died three hours after admission to the Pittsville hospital. She was 23 years of Miss Schriener took her seat on the motorcycle with Frank Greenwald, a young man of about the same age. She was thrown off in a collision with a bicycle and her skull fractured, together with a number of other serious injuries.

"Is your life insured, Bessie?" asked a neighbor as the girl took her dangerous seat on the front of the machine.

"Oh, yes; I don't expect to come back alive," was the reply.

Greenwald is prostrated from the effect of the accident.

Rev. Fr. Desmond Dead

TILTON, N. H., Sept. 15.—Rev. Fr. Jeremiah Desmond, one of the most prominent Roman Catholic clergymen in New Hampshire, died yesterday, aged 33. For many years he had all the northern counties of the state as his field. A brother, P. C. Desmond of Chicago and a sister who lives in South Berwick, Me., survive.

To Manage Vanderbilt Yacht
BRISTOL, R. I., Sept. 15.—Robert W. Emmons, 2nd, of Boston, was formally chosen yesterday by the so-called Vanderbilt syndicate to manage their candidate for the America's cup honors next year. Mr. Emmons, if the syndicate boat is selected to meet Sir Thomas Lipton's cup challenger, will be the first amateur in many years to handle a defender of the "blue ribbon of the seas."

GIRLS! THICKEN AND BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR

Bring Back Its Gloss, Lustre, Charm and Get Rid of Dandruff.

To be possessed of a head of heavy, beautiful hair; soft, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and free from dandruff is merely a matter of using a little Dandaruff.

It is easy and inexpensive to have nice soft hair and lots of it. Just get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Dandaruff now—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance; freshness, fullness and an incomparable gloss and lustre, and try as you will you cannot find a trace of dandruff or tallow hair; but your red surprise will be after two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—but really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp.

Dandaruff is the only sure hair grower; destroyer of dandruff and cure for itchy scalp and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Dandaruff and carefully draw it through your hair—tangling one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise awaits everyone who tries this.

MRS. PANKHURST, LEADER OF THE MILITANT WOMEN MAY BE BARRED FROM AMERICA

MRS. EMMELINE PANKHURST

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—American suffragists are talking of nothing else just now except the visit of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the militant suffragette leader of England, who has been jailed so many times and who is now in Paris, where she fled after she was released through hunger striking while serving a three year sentence. Mrs. Pankhurst, who was last in this country two years ago, will sail on La Provence on October 11. She may be held up at Ellis Island and sent back as an undesirable. It is this feature of her visit that is causing the most discussion. The state department has asked for official papers regarding her status in England. Regarding her visit the militant leader said in Paris: "I intend to describe and explain the position and aims of our movement in order that American women may understand what we are doing and why and where we stand. They cannot learn that from the English newspapers, which, as if by a preconcerted agreement, limit their reports militarily, passing over all our other work, ignoring our crowded meetings like those which are held every week; our work on the two great questions at the London Pavilion, never reporting the speeches made by men like Israel Zangwill and never recognizing this work in America."

PRES. ALDEN CRITICIZED FOSS At Annual Convention of Mass. Branch of the American F. of L. Opened at Fall River Today

FALL RIVER, Sept. 15.—Never before in the history of the state, I believe, has such a chaotic condition existed in regard to the enforcement of the labor laws," said President E. S. Alden of Holyoke in presenting his report to the Massachusetts branch of the American Federation of Labor at the opening of its convention here today. In this connection President Al-out legislative work should be taken care of by a person competent to perform it who should be termed a legislative agent and be under the instruction and guidance of the executive council and the executive council in turn being directly responsible to the convention."

Opposed Compulsory Arbitration

Opposition was also voiced by President Alden against any legislation providing for compulsory arbitration.

"We believe in conciliation and arbitration," said the president, "and will go to great length and suffer much to obtain it before striking. But we must fight any effort to take from us the legal right to quit work whenever we wish for any reason or for no reason. The right under the law to strike must be maintained."

In touching the workmen's compensation act, President Alden said:

"We should take action at this convention looking to the amendment of the workmen's compensation law to provide that medical assistance and hospital bills should be paid during the entire time the patient is in the hospital or under a physician's care. Also that compensation should commence from the date of injury if the injury last for a period longer than two weeks."

Labor Movement Strong

"The labor movement of the state was never in such good condition," said the president in summarizing the reports of other officers. He pointed out that the report of Secretary-Treasurer Martin T. Joyce showed:

"At the close of the fiscal year 1913 we had on hand $1,122. We assumed an obligation of $1,300 for the year 1913 that represented the salary of the new office of permanent secretary. We come to this convention with all our running expenses and legislative expenses paid up and a balance of $2,660."

During the past year there have been 112 affiliations of various unions with the state branch and no suspensions, according to the report of the secretary-treasurer.

The legislative committee's report states that of 24 measures presented to the legislature through their efforts 14 were successful. Some that the committee considered the most important, such as the initiative and referendum, recall of judicial decisions, woman's suffrage, popular election of judges, tax exemption of $2,000 on homesteads, barbers' license bill were among those that did not pass.

Lowell Delegate Attends

Mr. Edward Donnelly of Cross street left this city yesterday for Fall River, where he is to attend the convention of the Massachusetts branch of American Federation of Labor, as a delegate of the local branch of the Street Railway union. Mr. Donnelly is employed as a conductor by the Bay State Street Railway and has held an important office in the union for many years.

On his arrival at Fall River the local delegate was welcomed to the city by Mayor James H. Kay. The sessions of the convention will be held in Anawan hall and Mr. Donnelly will be present at all in the interest of the Lowell men.

4 KILLED IN EXPLOSION

Six Families Buried in Ruins

COBURG, Germany, Sept. 15.—Four persons were killed and six others injured here during the night by the collapse of a tenement house, caused by a gas explosion. Six families were buried in the ruins and it was not known definitely this morning whether more victims were beneath the debris on which a force of soldiers and firemen were working.

The explosion, which occurred in the gas main in the centre of the street was so violent that it lifted the house bodily several feet. Fire then broke out and several of the injured were badly burned.

A meeting of Waverly Lodge, Sons of St. George, was held last Friday evening in Odd Fellows hall with President Willis S. Bowles in the chair. A grist of regular business was transacted and plans were made to entertain the members of the Mystic Lodge of Malden, who are to visit Waverly Lodge on Friday, Sept. 26. After the business a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

ST. MARIE'S PARISH AT SO. LOWELL

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

Met in Gorham Street
Court House Today

TO DISCUSS INCREASE OF RENT TO BE PAID CITY

As Result of Improvements at Market Street Building—Com. Cummings Wants County to Pay $800 More

The county commissioners of Middlesex county held a meeting in the court house on Gorham street this morning relative to the increase in rent that the county is to pay for the use of the improvements at the police station. At the present time $2400 a year is paid by the city of Lowell by Middlesex county for the rental of a part of the station and it is believed that this amount will be increased to $2600.

The city of Lowell is compelled by law to have a police station equipped with fire proof vaults for the purpose of keeping books and records. Recently a large vault has been installed at the local station at an expense of between eight and nine thousand dollars.

At the time that the matter of constructing this fire proof safe deposit chamber was brought before the county commissioners they agreed to pay $500 a year in addition to the sum now paid for the rent of the police station. This amount was agreed upon by figuring that the county's share would be two-thirds of the thing equipment and one-half of the construction.

Commissioner Cummings was present at the meeting this morning and asked the representatives of Middlesex county to pay the city of Lowell an additional sum of $600 per year and sign a lease for the term of 10 years. County Commissioner Gould stated that at the present time the county does not lease any property from any city or town and the matter was carried over until tomorrow when it will be brought before the commissioners at their meeting in Cambridge.

REV. AVITE AMYOT, O. M. I.
Pastor

Father surrounded by nine choirs of angels and crowned by the heavenly thrones. His attention directed towards the humble spot to see how you honor His Blessed Mother, and how you commemorate the seventh anniversary of her patronage over this parish.

Shorty after nine o'clock Rev. J. Iervie Racette, O. M. I., D. D., Rev. Joseph Bolduc, O. M. I., and Rev. Bro. Rosario Jalbert, O. M. I., the two latter in Joseph's automobile. They repaired to the home of Albert Morin, 171 Eugene street, where the members of Branch St. Marie A. C. F. were in attendance, with a large number of other parishioners. Upon the arrival of the clergymen the procession headed by Marshal Alfred Theriault, and Flag Bearers Thomas Theriault and Joseph Couture wended its way to the church in Woburn street. The route of the parade was beautifully decorated, the houses being elaborately covered with waving, American and French flags, while the flag of the Sacred Heart was also much in evidence.

The clergymen were received by the church by Rev. Avite Amyot, O. M. I., pastor and the altar boys, and at 9:30 o'clock solemn high mass was celebrated by Fr. Racette, assisted by Fr. Bolduc and Bro. Jalbert as deacon and sub deacon. The choir, under the direction of Armand Surprenant with Mrs. Surprenant presiding at the organ, rendered the Mass. Bordelais, the solo being sustained by Messrs. Pierre Samson, Richard Gelineau, Henri Pronovost, Enoch Dumont and Leon Nadeau.

The announcements were made by the pastor, who took occasion to thank the pastor of St. Joseph's for his presence among his flock. He also reviewed the work of the parish since the late Rev. Joseph Campreau, O. M. I., and Rev. Joseph Lefebvre, O. M. I., in the course of his remarks he spoke of the school and its progress and said 20 boys and girls registered at the opening of the classes this fall's term.

A Flourishing Parish

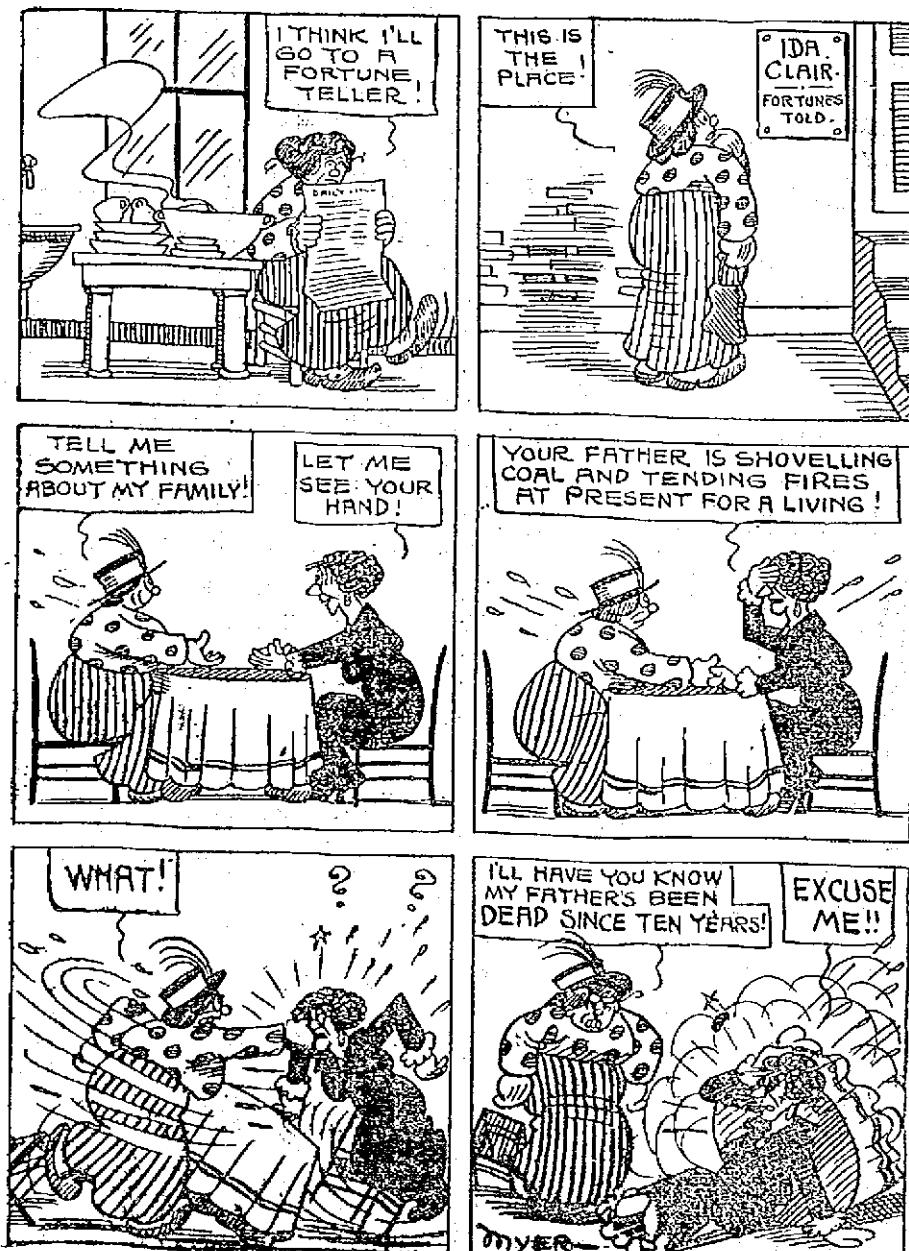

The sermon was then given by Fr. Racette, who spoke in part as follows:

"It is good for the Christian heart to see God praised and honored. It is good for the priestly heart to see his mother church spreading and prospering. It is good for the Sacred Heart of Jesus to see His worshippers increasing. Dear Brethren, on this great day you are writing a beautiful page in the book of life of the young parish. You are establishing a new branch in our grand parish of St. Joseph. You are laying the foundations for a new and flourishing parish. You are establishing its first customs and traditions. You are making and living and history.

The sight of the family reunion in the modest temple, to celebrate its festivities and anniversaries is assuredly most pleasing to God. In my mind I see Jesus seated upon a throne of glory at the right hand of God the Father.

REV. APPLETON GRANNIS

Says Christianity's Plea
is to the Individual

FROM THE DEPTHS OF THEIR OWN
NATURE

Christ Tried to Awaken New Desires
in All With Whom He Came in Contact

At St. Anne's church, Sunday morning, Rev. Appleton Grannis preached from the text: "The Kingdom of God is Within You." In part he said:

When Christ came, he made his appeal distinctively to the individual. From the depths of their own nature he tried to awaken in all with whom he came in contact new desires and new hopes and ambitions. He sought to deliver them from the strife of the passions they had served. And he has shown, and his best disciples have also proved it true, that if the true congenial point of any soul, soul can be reached and touched, even the dead will be alive again and the lost will be found. Thus making his appeal to the individual, and striving to build in him a conscientious spirit. Jesus Christ has revolutionized all society. And this man who had in his gospel no scheme of government has yet moulded the development of all the world's systems of law and administration. He had no defined policy of social regeneration, yet under the spell of his influence, slavery has perished, and the rights of woman have been established. He wrote no treatise on political economy, but all commerce has been affected by his power. He painted no pictures, carved no statues, and wrote no music, but music and art have caught their deepest inspiration from his life.

No one denies the right of the state to readjust things, protect the rights of the weaker and carry on its many and beneficial works of reform, and see to it that they constitute a fitting school for just and righteous habits. These duties are too clear to be for a moment questioned. What is asserted is that this church is not primarily a school for instructing men in questions of trade and finance and taxation, and settling social problems. It has been to the injury of the church in the past that men slightly versed in political economy and sociology have outlined schemes of reform which have proved untrue, injurious and ill-timed. When the preacher has become merely political it is because he has lost grip of religion.

But to the spiritual agency of the church is must be left to address itself to persons, one by one, to teach the secret springs of better life, and speak for God to the languid but unwilling conscience of mankind." The church must deal with living persons themselves, and hold them in the presence of a sympathy that feels not only for them, but with them.

It recognizes that in such a practical and vital question, for example, as that of marriage and divorce, which affects so profoundly the life and happiness and welfare of the family, the best solution and the only enduring one consists in building up within the hearts of individual men and women right principles and convictions, and that legislation is, after all, only of secondary importance in accomplishing the desired end.

Therefore it is that Christianity addresses itself to the individual, and its prophecy of success is that it has faith in the spiritual possibilities of every individual.

The Kingdom of God exists whenever a human soul is found which is loyal to Christianity, which seeks for purity and righteousness as the only atmosphere in which it can live, and goes forth in deeds of thoughtfulness and self-sacrifice.

JAMES HIGGINS WAS SERIOUSLY INJURED

Nine Year Old Lad Struck by an Automobile This Forenoon is on Dangerous List at Hospital

While on his way to school shortly after 8 o'clock this morning, James Higgins, aged 9 years, of 134 Lakeview avenue, was knocked down and run over by an automobile truck owned by the D. L. Page company and driven by a man named John Locke, of 22 Bowes street. The boy was taken to St. John's hospital where it was learned that he had sustained four fractured ribs. The accident occurred at the corner of Bridge and West Fourth streets, where young Higgins, in company with several other boys, was playing chase. It is said that the machine was being driven along Bridge street at a fair rate of speed and the boy, not believing the approaching auto was so close, dashed into the street directly in front of it. It was impossible for the chauffeur to bring his car to a stop and both wheels passed over the youngster's body. He was taken to St. John's hospital in an automobile where it was said that his chances for recovery were slight.

THE HUDSON RIVER MURDER MYSTERY

Terrible Crime Admitted by a German Clergyman, Suspended and Used Forged Credentials

MAINZ, Germany, Sept. 15.—The Journal today says that Johannes Schmidt, belonging to the Mainz episcopate, has been long under suspension by the bishop of that diocese. He disappeared from Mainz and later arrived in Munich, where he was arrested on a charge of committing frauds, according to the newspaper. He was acquitted by the court on the ground of weak-mindedness and then emigrated to New York. The Mainz episcopate was not aware he was exercising the functions of a priest at New York.

Bishop Dismissed Schmidt

TRENTON, Sept. 15.—The Rt. Rev. James McPaul, bishop of the diocese of Trenton today made public a letter written by him to Hans Schmidt in 1910 while the latter was serving at St. Francis' church in this city during the illness of the Rev. Dr. Rathner.

SULZER WITNESS LOST

HORSE BROKE HYDRANT

Frederic L. Colwell Has Disappeared

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Frederick L. Colwell, of Yonkers, regarded as a star witness against Governor Sulzer at his forthcoming trial on impeachment charges has disappeared, according to an announcement today made by the assembly board of impeachment.

Information in possession of the board is to the effect that Colwell is absenting himself from the jurisdiction of the board at the direct instigation of the governor and for the purpose of avoiding testifying against the governor at his trial, renders a lengthy statement issued on behalf of the board by Aaron J. Levy, its chairman.

Mr. Levy added that a country-wide search had been made for Colwell recently without success.

Testimony adduced by the Frawley investigating committee of the legislature at hearings here was to the effect that Colwell had purchased 200 shares of railroad stock last fall with money given to Gov. Sulzer's campaign fund, the personal check of Sulzer for $300 and currency amounting to $7,125.

GOV. FELKER'S DESK BURIED
BENEATH BUSHEL OF LETTERS AND TELEGRAMS

CONCORD, N. H., Sept. 15.—Governor Felker's desk at the executive chambers in the state house was buried this morning beneath a bushel of letters and telegrams relating to the Thaw case. Most of them appeared to be the result of a movement originating with a theatrical company in Kansas to create sentiment favorable to Thaw. The governor is not expected to be at the state house today.

CANADIAN LAWYER WANTS TO BRING THAW BACK TO CANADA

MONTRÉAL, Que., Sept. 15.—Harry K. Thaw's Canadian lawyers have not given up hope of bringing him back to the Dominion. N. K. Lafamme, one of their number, announced in court today that he and his associates still expected to ask the appellate court of Quebec for a decision on the constitutionality of the immigration act invoked when Thaw was hustled across the Canadian border into Vermont. If they succeeded in having the law declared invalid they would make a formal demand "through the proper channels," Lafamme said, for Thaw's return to Canada.

THAW WILL BE TAKEN TO LITTLETON, N. H., TOMORROW FOR HEARING

COLEBROOK, N. H., Sept. 15.—Harry K. Thaw awaited anxiously today the arrival of U. S. Marshal Nutt bearing notice to Sheriff Drew of Coos county that the fugitive must be produced on a writ of habeas corpus before Judge Aldrich in the United States district court at Littleton tomorrow morning. Thaw then will be under the protection of the United States, pending disposition of the writ and this guarantee of safety in the face of so many kidnapping rumors was a source of relief to him.

Sheriff Holman Drew said he did not expect Nutt until this afternoon. "Probably we will not take Thaw to Littleton until tomorrow morning," he said. "There is a train leaving here shortly after six, which would bring us there is plenty of time to be in court at 11."

William Travers Jerome, New York's special deputy in the Thaw matter, planned to accompany Thaw to Littleton as did Franklin Kennedy, deputy attorney-general, and Sheriff Hornbeck of Dutchess county.

OFFICIAL REQUEST OF STATE OF
NEW YORK FOR EXTRADITION
OF THAW FILED

CONCORD, N. H., Sept. 15.—The official request of the state of New York for the extradition of Harry K. Thaw was filed at the governor's office in the state house this morning by Bernard Jacobs, a lawyer of Lancaster, this state, acting for the New York authorities.

WRECK ENGINEER HELD IN $5000

August Miller, Who Figured in New Haven Wreck in Which 21 Were Killed, Charged With Manslaughter

NEW HAVEN, Sept. 15.—August Miller, engineer of the White Mountain express, which wrecked the Bar Harbor express on the morning of Sept. 2 at North Haven, was arrested this noon on a bench warrant obtained by State's Attorney Alling and presented before the superior court, charged with manslaughter. In the wreck 21 persons lost their lives and two score were injured, eleven still remaining in hospitals here. Miller pleaded "not guilty" and his bond was fixed at $5,000, the same amount which was provided by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers after Coroner Mix had ordered his arrest pending an inquest. It was furnished.

Miller's arrest preceded the filing by the coroner of his report of his "private" inquiry. For this reason it was not known when Miller was arraigned whether or not Flagman C. H. Murray of the Bar Harbor train, who has been under a bond furnished by the railroad company was to be brought before the court. State's Attorney Alling declined to say whether there would be additional arrests. The coroner's office did not expect the finding would be made a matter of record until later in the afternoon.

THE ABOLITION OF GRADE CROSSINGS

At Middlesex and Fletcher Sts. Meets With Opposition — Railroads Can't Afford Expense

The matter of abolishing the grade crossings at Middlesex and Fletcher streets was taken up in court at East Cambridge this forenoon by City Solicitor J. Joseph Hennessy, who presented a petition asking the court to appoint a commission to look into the advisability of abolishing the said crossings, which are the only ones in this city, and which are a menace to the public in general. The railroad companies, however, are opposed to this project and through their counsels, Messrs. Coolidge and Hight for the Boston & Maine, and E. W. Hall for the Lowell & Nashua railroad, stated that the companies were not in a financial condition to abolish the said crossings. The attorney general of the commonwealth, James M. Swift, is in favor of the petition and he has sent a letter to that effect to the city solicitor.

Attorney General's Letter

The commonwealth of Massachusetts is in favor of abolishing these crossings, and a good proof of this is the following letter which was sent to Mr. Hennessy by the attorney general:

Boston, Mass., Sept. 10, 1913.

J. Joseph Hennessy,
City Solicitor, Lowell, Mass.

Dear Sir:

In the matter of your decision for the appointment of a commission in the grade crossing matters about which you wrote me August 30, I have to say that I do not intend to contest your motion. In fact the commission should be appointed. If you will be good enough to send me a list of men whom you desire to have appointed, or whom you desire to submit for my agreement, I shall be pleased to see if we cannot agree upon them.

Yours respectfully,

Jas. M. Swift, Atty. Gen.

Hildreth Cemetery Matter

A petition for an injunction to stop the city treasurer from selling the Hildreth cemetery for taxes, was presented at the session of the court of equity held in Boston this morning and after the petition was filed it was agreed by both counsels that the matter should go over until next Friday for a hearing.

Warren W. Fox represented the petitioners and City Solicitor J. Joseph Hennessy appeared for the city treasurer. In turn, it was agreed that there was a great demand

NORMAN MACK SUES FOR LIBEL

Failed to Appear Before John A. Hennessy, Gov. Sulzer's Special Investigator

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 16.—Norman Mack, former chairman of the democratic committee, failed to appear before John A. Hennessy, Gov. Sulzer's special investigator, today to answer charges of having failed to account for money contributed to him in the last gubernatorial campaign.

Following the publication of Mr. Hennessy's charges, Mr. Mack announced his willingness to appear before the investigator at any time and place he might designate. Mr. Hennessy then adjourned the hearing at Albany at 10 o'clock this morning.

Instead Mr. Mack, through his secretary, James W. Rolly, served Mr. Hennessy with summons and complaint in a $5,000 action for libel.

Lowell Won N. E. League Pennant by Wide Margin--"Big Four" Who Directed Champions

PRES. ANDREW F. ROACH

The New England league season has come to a close and Lowell has been returned the winner by a wide margin. Eight full games separate the Portland team, which stands second in the race, from the club which has represented our city. That Lowell would win the pennant was never doubted even in the dark days during the beginning of diamond activities when we were being sent down to defeat by single run decisions. In fact the Sun has been the only newspaper around the circle which has promised Lowell fans this season's pennant.

Now that the silver trophy has been won and the post season series is at hand it would not be amiss to take a look around us in an endeavor to appreciate just why Lowell did win the pennant.

Gray Like Connell Mack

To begin with the local team had the overconfidence of Manager Jimmy Gray who has once before pushed over a pennant winner. Manager Gray as once before mentioned in these columns studies his games along the same lines as does Connell Mack, the famous leader of the Athletics. He never does a scit and seldom is his voice heard by the spectators, but his players place more dependence upon his nod than the Worcester club does in Burkett's most explosive exclamations. Gray is a manager who is always on the job, who never missed anything material to the winning of a game and for whom his players will do their utmost. This, we consider, was the greatest factor in bringing the flag to Lowell.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Theatre Vorous

Today's feature at the Theatre Vorous is "When Women Go on the Warpath." The best comedians in the profession take part among them being Sydney Drew, Kate Price, Josie Sadler, James Lakaye, Flora Finch, Lillian Walker and Clara Kimball Young. The story deals with the troubles of the men voters in a small village in which the women steal all of trousers in town, on the morning of election. As a result the town goes for woman suffrage and also "dry." The dramatic feature is "Light in Troubled Waters" is played by an English company headed by Mary Fuller and was staged in Rockland, Me.

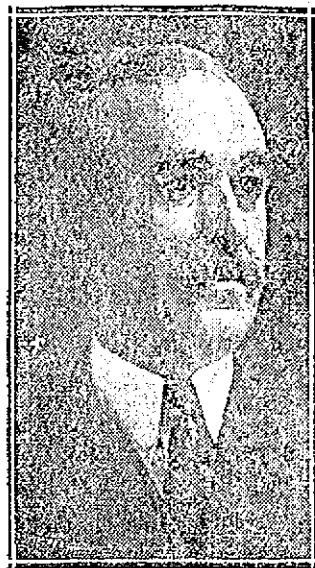

Merrimack Sq. Theatre Players

Of all the plays, regardless of the type, which have been produced in the past few years "The East is West" which is the offering at the Merrimack Square theatre this week is the most talked about. Having a successful run of over two years in New York and having come to a capacity business wherever it was presented, Lowell theatregoers will again be given opportunity of witnessing it produced on an elaborate scale. BOSTON BALL PLAYERS FINED

Maranville and Myers, With Manager Tinker of Cincinnati, Were Ordered to Ante for Fight

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 15.—Major and minor league magnates and others interested in the drafting of players by major league clubs from minor leagues were present when the national baseball commission began its annual meeting here today. The members of the commission are:

August Hermann, chairman; President Thomas Lynch of the National League and President Ban Johnson of the American League. When the members of the commission went into session more drafts had been entered than in any year since the national agreement went into effect.

It was reported that the commission would discuss a new plan for drafting players which would give the advantage to the second division teams in the major leagues and help them to build up. At present all clubs in the big leagues have an equal advantage. The first division clubs may put in as many drafts as the second division teams and they have an equal chance to draw the players desired.

Tonight the directors of the National League will meet to review the protest of the New York club of the National League with regard to the New York-Philadelphia game of Aug. 29, which was forfeited to New York by Umpire Brennan and later awarded to the Philadelphia club by President Lynch.

Players Fined For Fighting

President Lynch announced today that he had fined both Manager Tinker of the Cincinnati club and Shortstop Maranville of the Boston club $50 and First Baseman Myers, also of the Boston team, $100 for fighting on the field during the first game of the double header here last Saturday. Tinker also was suspended three days for using abusive language to Umpire O'Day.

Change In Rules

Just before the commission went into session, Chairman Hermann announced that the rule of procedure in the drafting of players would be changed. Instead of the old way of placing in a hat the names of major league clubs who had entered drafts for the same player of a class A or A-A club and confining the selection to the player named, the winner in the lottery would be given a lot to choose any player from that club on which drafts had been made by any club. The old rule provided that only one player could be drafted from one club and that the winner in the drawing could only obtain the man for whom it had entered a draft.

GIrls of School Age

Need Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to Keep Their Blood in Good Order

Girls in their teens are often troubled with cold blood, making the complexion pale, sometimes greenish, the cheeks thin, the lips colorless. There is shortness of breath after the slightest exertion, a general feeling of weariness and a disinclination to study or work. Sometimes a slight cough causes a feeling of alarm that the lungs may be affected.

There is one remedy that will surely correct this form of anaemia in growing girls and that is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The action of these pills in such cases is as direct and certain as that of quinine in malaria, as sure as anything known to the science of remedial medicine.

Every mother whose daughter is pale and thin owes it to her child's future to at once give her a course of treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Neglect at this time may result in a lifetime of misery.

Your druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

According to the statement of Rev. Fr. Galligan this morning, the officers for the event have been chosen as follows:

General manager, Rufus C. Hood; assistant, Fred M. Burns; floor director, Thomas H. Boylan; entertainment committee, John Condon, James Morrison, Frank Foye, James Hennessy, refreshment committee, Frank J. Campbell, James Morrison, William Hennessy, John Barrett and George P. Greene.

Rev. James F. Lynch, who has been assistant at St. Margaret's church during the summer in the absence of Rev. Henry C. Riordan, the latter having made an extended trip abroad, has been appointed assistant rector of St. Mary's church, Ayer, where Rev. Fr. Sheedy is pastor. Rev. Fr. Riordan, who returned to Lowell a fortnight ago, has resumed his duties at the church. He was greatly benefited by his ocean voyage.

The Sunday school of the church opened yesterday afternoon, the classes being held in the church itself.

St. Michael's

The work of building the new organ in St. Michael's church is going ahead rapidly, but as to the time of its completion and the resumption of the high masses, no definite word may yet be given. It was estimated this morning that the work may take about ten days longer.

Immaculate Conception—St. Patrick's

A meeting of the Holy Name society of the Church of the Immaculate Conception was held last night and considerable business of importance was transacted. A meeting of the Immaculate Conception sodality is scheduled to be held on Tuesday evening.

Rev. Fr. Kerrigan was the celebrant of the high mass yesterday morning at 11 o'clock at St. Patrick's church while Rev. Fr. Curtin preached on the gospel of the day. He also announced the opening of the Sunday schools and spoke upon the necessity of regular attendance.

The Lyceum is preparing for a season of great activity. At present plans for a tournament of games with the Holy Name society of St. Patrick's are now under way. Several committees have been appointed to make arrangements for various athletic and social events. It is said that the club will be represented by a record basketball team this coming season. Extensive repairs have been made at the rooms, including the repairing of the billiard and pool tables.

The annual Lawrence night has been set for October 16, and this it is believed will be as great a success as ever. There has been some talk about the forming of a debating club and as this has been considered by other similar organizations, the benefits of such a club are evident. It will probably be discussed and action taken at the next meeting.

MATRIMONIAL

The following account of the wedding of Bernard M. McNally, who formerly resided in this city, is from a Springfield paper of recent date:

The wedding of Miss Mary W. Shaw, daughter of Mrs. Anna Hopkins Shaw of 51 North Main street, and Bernard M. McNally took place yesterday morning at 8 o'clock in the Church of the Sacred Heart, Rev. J. A. Riordan officiating.

The bride was attended by Miss Adelaide King, while James F. MacNally of Lowell, brother of the groom, was the best man. The organist, Miss Ellie McCarthy, played the wedding march and sang "O Salutaris" and "Ave Maria".

The bride wore a gown of white crepe meringue with a Chantilly lace coat, her hat being large white picture hat with white plumes, while her shower bouquet was of lilles of the valley.

The bridegroom wore a charming creation of white crepe de chine and a black velvet picture hat, while her bouquet was of Tint roses.

The wedding breakfast followed at the Worthy hotel, the guests being limited to the bridal party.

After an extended wedding to the White mountains and Canada, Mr. and Mrs. MacNally will return to this city, where they will make their future home at 51 North Main street.

The bride was formerly the assistant book buyer at Forbes & Wallaces. The groom is the manager of the United Cleaners company and formerly lived in Lowell.

THE FOOTBALL SEASON TO OPEN

Carlisle Indian-Albright College
Game Next Saturday — 1914
Expected to be Record Season

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Another international sport competition will be added to the already lengthy list of 1913, with the playing of the United States open golf championship tournament at Brookline, Mass., next week. Owing to the entry of several of the leading professionals of England and France, the tournament has attracted unusual interest this year and elaborate arrangements are being made to accommodate a record entry and gallery during the four days of play at the Country club course. So keen is the desire to witness the foreign players in competition with the best of America's professionals that the original arrangements for the tournament had to be revised in order to meet the new demands.

According to the latest estimates more than 150 entrants are assured and a daily gallery in excess of 5000 will follow the players, providing favorable weather conditions prevail. The presence of Wilfrid Reid, Harry Vardon, Edward Hay and Christopher Callery, representing England, and Louis Tellier and Arnaud Massy of France, is likely to prove great drawing card for both entrants and spectators. In order to provide for this unusual entry elimination rounds will be played on Monday and Tuesday. Those players who qualify with the best thirty-two scores and those tied for thirty-second place will proceed to the championship rounds to be played on Wednesday and Thursday.

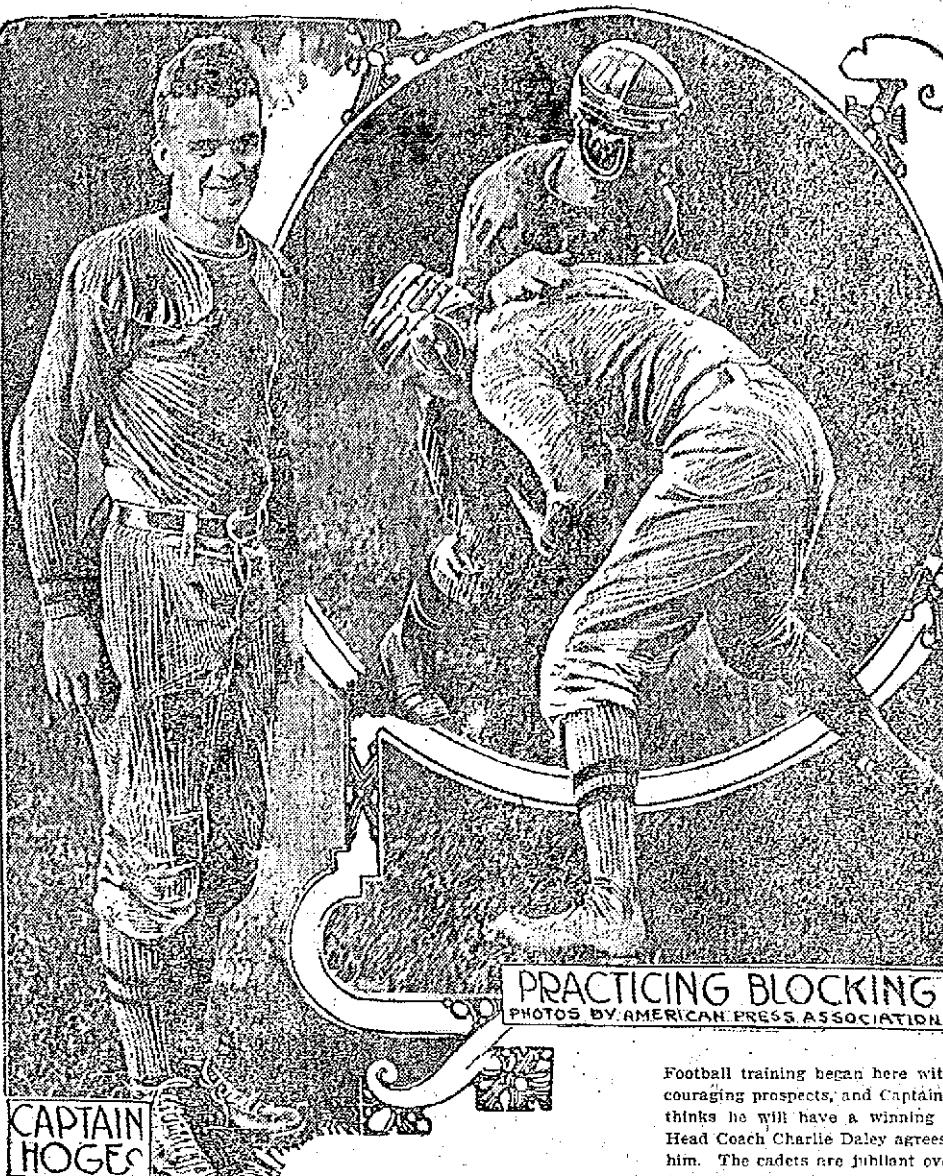

The open championship dates back to the organization of the United States Golf Association in 1895, and tournament of next week will be the nineteenth annual play for the title. Willie Anderson won in 1901-02-03-05, and J. I. McDermott in 1911-12. Alex. Smith won in 1907 and 1910. These were the only players to capture the championship more than once. Harry Vardon, the present British entrant, won the title in 1910, when the tournament was played at Wheaton, Ill. In view of the failure of the American professionals in their invasion of England and France last spring, the efforts of the English and French players to retain this advantage on strange links will be watched with more than ordinary interest.

Look For Record Year.
The possibilities of 1914 as a record year in sport is considerably brightened by the final signing and sealing of the agreement for a series of races for the America's cup during the month of September. It cannot be denied that the negotiations between the New York and Royal Ulster Yacht clubs were conducted upon ticklish grounds, and not until the final compact was signed was the cup contest assured. Now that the last doubt regarding the yachting classic is removed there are busy sessions ahead for designers, yachtsmen and many other actors in what will undoubtedly be the chief international sporting contest of the coming year.

It is understood that the plans for Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger, Shamrock IV, are about completed and that the keel of the seventy-five footer will be laid within the next month or six weeks. Three and possibly four defenders, all seventy-five foot yachts, are projected at the present time, and it is to be that this number will be still further augmented if the plan of certain wealthy followers of yachting materializes. It is proposed to have all these yachts in condition for the trial race preliminaries early next summer in order that there may be ample time for the tuning up and testing which plays such an important part in all America's cup races.

In the meantime numerous plans are being made to accommodate spectators along the New Jersey and Long Island shores and on Sandy Hook, where the International regatta will be staged. The chartering of large excursion steamers for use during the month of September, 1914, has already begun and it is expected that the excursion fleet will carry 75,000 spectators to the scene of the races each day. The early tuning-up of Newport and Sandy Hook also will attract many yachtsmen. Special arrangements for reporting the trials and races by wireless are already underway and the United States navy may be asked to help in this department of the regatta.

Football Season.
The coming week will also mark the opening of the football season with

DIAMOND DAZZLES

Bunting and Light Blues Tie. Following were the results of the games played on Saturday in the Lawrence, Lowell and District Soccer Football League:

BUNTINGS 3. MANCHESTER LIGHT BLUES

ANDOVER 4. SOUTH LAWRENCE 1.

HEVERILL 0. OLYMPICS 0.

LAWRENCE 4. CLANS 2.

BEVERLY 0. METHUEN 1.

The Bunting showed beyond the shadow of a doubt that they are represented by an exceedingly fast aggregation, and one which will figure strongly in the championship race.

The Manchester Light Blues, champions of last year's team, are among the league's best, and played their hardest to oust the visitors from Lowell on Saturday. It was an exciting contest throughout and was witnessed by a great crowd of people. Interest in the sport is particularly keen in Methuen.

BUNTINGS TIE WITH CHAMPS

Light Blues of Manchester held to 3-3 score—Beverlyville and Clans the Stars.

The Bunting and the Light Blues of Manchester, last year's champions, played a great game of soccer Saturday at the South Lowell grounds with the score tie at three goals each when time was called.

The local team played an aggressive game from the kickoff and scored the first goal of the contest after 17 minutes of play. The first half ended with the score 3 to 1 in favor of the Bunting, who has the advantage of the wind in this period.

The Light Blues, however, were not to be denied and tied two fancy goals into the net in the second half, although the Lowell players fought hard to avert a tie. The wind proved a greater factor in the second half than in the first.

Taking into consideration the fact that the Light Blues presented practically the same team Saturday that won the championship last year the Bunting should be very proud of their performance. The Bunting team, taken as a whole, looks much stronger than it did last season. The lineup is a still further augmented if the plan of certain wealthy followers of yachting materializes. It is proposed to have all these yachts in condition for the trial race preliminaries early next summer in order that there may be ample time for the tuning up and testing which plays such an important part in all America's cup races.

In the meantime numerous plans are being made to accommodate spectators along the New Jersey and Long Island shores and on Sandy Hook, where the International regatta will be staged. The chartering of large excursion steamers for use during the month of September, 1914, has already begun and it is expected that the excursion fleet will carry 75,000 spectators to the scene of the races each day. The early tuning-up of Newport and Sandy Hook also will attract many yachtsmen. Slugging Contest Won by the Champions — Wood Pitches a Steady Game — Aubrey Stars

Lowell closed the 1913 New England baseball season Saturday afternoon at Spaulding Park when the Brockton Shoemakers went down to defeat in a one-sided game. The Lowell champions showed superiority in every department of the game and batted out 16 to 3 victory.

Aubrey was the shining light with the club although every man on the team hit safely. The Lowell leader rapped out four hits one of which was a long home run drive inside the grounds. DeGroot, Dee, Flannery, Halstead and Dally also distinguished themselves. Wood was very loose until threatened by the visitors and then tightened. Dowd played a great game at second for the Shoemakers.

PROSPERITY AHEAD

The condition of business in New York may be taken as fairly representative of the condition of business throughout the country, and this being so, there is every indication of prosperity ahead, despite the tariff revision which according to the croakers was to bring disaster in its train. Buyers from the west and south crowd New York at the present time. The crop money which was largely furnished by the larger New York banks will soon be coming back in payment for goods that are being widely distributed. Unless merchants believe in the ability of the people to pay for these goods business would be dull, but their confidence is reflected in the unusually large orders placed with the wholesale manufacturers.

At no time during the precarious tariff revision did business assume alarmingly depressed proportions, but still there was a great deal of caution and a widespread desire to keep stock at the lowest possible ebb. Merchandise is still low everywhere and must be immediately replenished. Consequently the new orders coming in are larger than usual for they aim at supplying a large deficit and are piled up in readiness for an unusual run of prosperity. New York professes to be greatly surprised as is shown by the following extract from a dispatch to the Cincinnati Enquirer:

"Another thing which the presence of these buyers has brought to notice and of which frequent mention is made is that notwithstanding tariff and currency agitation, notwithstanding politics, business and industry of all kinds in the United States are advancing steadily and magnificently. It is when great groups of buyers visit New York, or Boston, or Philadelphia, or Chicago, that there does come a faint realization of the wonderful opulence of the United States. Some of our ablest bankers and most successful business men confess that they are unable fully to appreciate the stupendous prosperity and power of the people of the United States."

The "stupendous prosperity and power of the people of the United States" was never more apparent than at present and this because of the fact that prosperity depends far less on politics than most people imagine. When a large body of our people desire any reform, those opposed to that reform cry out in horror at the great evil which will be done. They strive to create the impression that the country has been prosperous or the contrary because of the wisdom or otherwise of those in power politically. They do not see or at least they do not profess to see that all the politics of the country cannot do away with the need for food and clothes and while that need exists business must cater to it. Prosperity is not made in the stock markets or in congress though undoubtedly both the stock markets and congress have their effect on it. Possibly there was a time when business was dependent more than it is at present on stock manipulation. At present the order is reversed and the stock market is more often a reflex of business in general than a motive power in affecting prosperity.

Even the most violent enemies of the tariff cannot do more now than whisper in the faintest terms of coming adversity. Everything bodes prosperity. Crops are good, manufacturing is brisk; orders are coming in thickly from all over the country to the industrial centres. The year 1913 will not be written black in our industrial history.

LET HER IN

Mrs. Pankhurst, the English lady whose name is associated with more crime committed in the cause of woman suffrage than that of any other living—or dead—female, intends to visit us about the middle of October and stay a month or so. Quite naturally the immigration authorities which barred Cipriano Castro and some other violent individuals are concerned at the propriety of letting her land on these shores. It is to be hoped that they will decide in her favor. She richly deserves any official rebuke in our power to offer, but no good would be gained by refusing her admittance.

She has already been crowned with the aureole of martyrdom by her fanatical followers and our refusal to admit her would automatically bring her sympathy which she does not deserve. In justice to her, it must be said that she has shown signs of returning reason recently and a visit here might show her the comparative benefit to be derived from campaigns of sense and dignity as compared with her deeds and counsels of violence.

When she returns to England she may find it advisable to put in the form of lessons of prudence and dignity learned from her American sisters—if American suffragettes will allow the relationship.

NO SURE INDICATION

The success of a republican candidate in the third Maine district and the almost absolute failure of the progressive party there does not indicate that the soldiers of Armageddon are about to return to the republican fold in Massachusetts. Much of the reason for the Maine result lay with purely local politics, and it cannot be made an augury for the coming struggle here. Massachusetts progressives have a much stronger candidate and though the return may show some falling away they will not show such a complete collapse as indicated by the results of the Maine election.

FOR THE MEN

Said Mrs. A. to Mr. A.:

"I called on Mrs. B. today, and she has such lovely clothes.

"I've hardly got a thing that's fit to crawl around in. Think of it! I try to make my old clothes do because I've some regard for you. I often wonder what you'd say if I should go and spend the way that others do," said Mrs. A.

Said Mrs. B. to Mr. B.:

"You're mighty lucky to have me to be your wife. Poor Mr. A! His wife gets clothes most every day. I like new suits and house gowns, too. But I'm considerate of you.

"She doesn't seem to care a bit how hard her husband's purse is hit. I stink myself as you can see; I'm mighty lucky to have me; I try to save," said Mrs. B.

—Woman's Home Companion.

"It is a great thing to have a reputation as a hero," sighed the man who hesitated to run into the thick of danger, "but I think, for my part, I would rather be a centenarian."

SUPERFAGWOCKY

"Twas suffrage and the militants. Old Jiba and Jabberlots; 'Back-numbers' were the antis, as well as 'Huttentots.'

"Hear ye the bogie-man, my child! He's a regular bogie-man."

And then along came polities

IN OUR BUSINESS THE FIRST YEAR IN OUR NEW STORE

A BETTER AND BIGGER STOCK; LESS EXPENSES AND LOWER PRICES; BETTER LIGHT AND BETTER DISPLAY OF GOODS; BETTER CHANCE FOR THE CUSTOMERS TO SEE WHAT THEY ARE BUYING; WINS THE DAY FOR THE SIDE STREET STORE

We went into the new store with a brand new stock, and that has been a great factor in the tremendous increase in our business, as customers knew when they came here they would get nothing but the latest patterns, designs or colorings. We are going to keep our stock up to that standard, new and fresh and up-to-the-minute, by selling every year at a sacrifice anything that has been on our floors more than six months—for whatever reason or for no reason, but mostly that they are the higher priced goods that move slowly anyway.

THE FIRM THAT DOES THINGS OUT OF THE BEATEN PATH

WITH THE LOCAL FRATERNITIES

Various Societies Start on Activities of Social Season—Foresters and Buffaloes Quite Active

The fraternities of this city are starting upon the activities of the winter and everything indicates a busy and successful season.

Fraternal Order of Buffalo

Lowell herd, No. 19, Benevolent Order of Buffalo, is one of the most active fraternities in this city at the present time. Since its organization on December 8, 1912, when it started with 24 members, it has grown steadily and now has a membership of 108 men. Applications are still being sent in.

The officers of the society are: Past president, W. J. Pendergast; president, J. E. Hughes; vice president, G. D. Crowell; chaplain, J. B. McLean; secretary, J. E. Lyle; treasurer, W. W. Murphy; marshal, Robert Dempsey; insiguard, Daniel Murray; outside guard, F. A. Crossley; trustees, Jess D. Crook, H. J. Draper, and E. A. Sheridan.

Maritime Province Club

The Maritime Province club is comprised of men who were born or formerly lived in any of the three provinces and at the present time has over 160 members. It was instituted in a small workshop on Princeton street with seven charter members but since the membership has increased it now occupies quarters in Odd Fellows temple. During its existence many social events have been carried out and all have met with great success. A successful outing was recently held at a nearby grove and over 50 members were present and took part in the sports and other events. Entertainment are given after the regular business meeting, which are held on the first and third Fridays of each month and it is planned to have John R. MacDonald, Esq., of Nova Scotia lecture at a meeting in the near future.

The officers of the Maritime club are: President, William A. Kelley; vice president, James Ahern; financial secretary, Albert McDonald; treasurer, Arthur Trainor; recording secretary, Frank Carragher; historian, Captain James Whalen; inner guard, Peter Hogan; outer guard, Thomas O'Donnell; trustees, Henry Hogan, James McDonald and John McEachern.

Eglin Lodge, N. E. O. P.

The members of Eglin Lodge, N. E. O. P., are planning on a very busy winter and already several state officers have promised to attend the meetings and address the members on the Lodge work. The Lodge meets on the first and third Fridays of each month at Veritas hall on Branch street and at each meeting the entertainment committee springs a surprise on the members. The membership at the present time is in the vicinity of 150 and many visitors are present at the meetings, as Eglin Lodge always welcomes members of the N. E. O. P. from other lodges. The local order was organized 25 years ago last December and at that time its anniversary was celebrated as well as the 25th anniversary of the N. E. O. P.

The officers of the Eglin Lodge are: Past warden, Mrs. Elizabeth Chedwick; warden, Mrs. Dora A. Chase; vice warden, Fred Timmins; secretary, Mrs. Hattie A. Burrows; financial secretary, A. Christabelle Burrows; treasurer, Mrs. Ettie J. Bowen; guide, E. E. Fisher; guardian, Hiram C. Gordon; sexton, Miss Nellie McLaughlin; chaplain, Miss Anna Hird.

SON HELD FOR MURDER

Fatal End to Quarrel With Father

BOSTON, Sept. 15.—Medical Examiner Leary will report to a justice of the Roxbury court his findings made after an autopsy on the body of George W. Brown, 111 Magnolia street, whose death followed a quarrel with his son, Edgar M. Brown, at their residence late Saturday night.

Brown's death was due to hemorrhage of the brain, which the police allege may have been caused by a blow. The son was placed under arrest directly after the death of the elder Brown.

The argument which led up to the quarrel is alleged to have started when the son came home at a late hour and commenced to play the phonograph, to which the father objected.

Edgar M. Brown, who is held at the Dudley street police station, told his side of the story to Captain Goodwin and Police Inspector Denhavy yesterday.

He said he and a friend were in the house playing a phonograph for amusement when his father got out of bed and objected to the noise. It is alleged that he pushed his father from the room and continued the music.

Later, it is declared, that after his guest departed he went into his father's room to remonstrate with him about the interruption. According to the police his father, after a discussion, became angry and ordered him to leave the house.

Regarding just what happened after these three different stories are told, the police say the son declares that with the flat of his hand he pushed his father down on to the bed. His mother's story is that he placed his hands on his father's shoulders and pushed him down, but according to the police his sister-in-law states that he struck his father in the jaw with his fist.

It was learned yesterday from a friend of the elder Brown who worked with him, that he had not been at all like himself on Saturday and that on his friend's inquiring as to what was the trouble he had answered that he was not feeling very well. He was 62 years old. For the past 11 years he had been in failing health and it is said that he had a weak heart.

The deceased was born in London, England, and came to this country at the age of 15. Shortly after his arrival here he obtained a position with a large dry goods house where he had been ever since.

At late hour last night Edgar M. Brown was released under $500 bail.

PLAN M. T. I. BANQUET

WILL BE BIG ANNIVERSARY EVENT FOR SOCIETY—WINTER SEASON TO BE AN EXTREMELY BUSY ONE

The members of the Mathew Temperance Institute held a well attended meeting at their rooms yesterday morning. The banquet committee reported everything in readiness for the event. The spiritual director, Rev. Dr. Kelcher, has invited Rev. Dr. Cornell of No. Biltmore to be the principal speaker on that occasion. The others will include the mayor, Rev. Dr. Kehler, and Thomas A. Farmer of Lynn, the latter the probation officer of that city. The banquet will be held at the headquarters in Central street. A membership contest will be opened by the Mathews at an early date.

The Mathews are preparing for a particularly active winter season and even now the membership is considerably larger and the interest keen. The membership campaign is expected to benefit the society by an even greater increase. Many plans are on foot for an extremely busy social season.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Early autumn frosts in the lower lake region and the Middle Atlantic states, New England and the extreme northwest are predicted by the weather bureau for Tuesday.

PREDICTED HER DEATH

Girl Was Victim of Motor Cycle Accident

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Sept. 15.—An hour after Miss Bessie Schriner, a member of a widely known family and socially prominent through Schuylkill county jokingly predicted that she would not come back alive from a trip on a motorcycle, she had received fatal injuries at Mt. Carbon and died three hours after admission to the Pittsville hospital. She was 23 years of age.

Miss Schriner took her seat on the motorcycle with Frank Greenwalt, a young man of about the same age. She was thrown off in a collision with a bicycle and her skull fractured, together with a number of other serious injuries.

"Is your life insured, Bessie?" asked a neighbor as the girl took her dangerous seat on the front of the machine.

"Oh, yes; I don't expect to come back alive," was the reply.

Greenwalt is frustrated from the effect of the accident.

REV. FR. DESMOND DEAD

TILTON, N. H., Sept. 15.—Rev. Fr. Jeremiah Desmond, one of the most prominent Roman Catholic clergymen in New Hampshire, died yesterday, aged 53. For many years he had all the northern counties of the state as his field. A brother, P. C. Desmond of Chicago and a sister who lives in South Berwick, Me., survive.

AUTOS IN COLLISION

Woman Killed and Two Others Injured

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 15.—An automobile collision in East Providence yesterday resulted in the death last night of Mrs. May Georgy of Fall River, Mass.

Mrs. Mary Fuller and Miss May Croson, a young girl who were riding with Mrs. Georgy in a machine driven by Mrs. Fuller's son, Dr. Fuller of Fall River, were taken to a hospital, but were found to have sustained only severe injuries.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Galligan of New Bedford, the occupants of the other car, escaped injury, though Mrs. Galligan was slightly cut in the face by the breaking of the windshield of their car. She was able to go to her home.

The collision occurred at the corner of Waterman and Pawtucket avenues, which has been the scene of two previous accidents of the same kind. This summer a quantity of brush at the side of the street is believed to have prevented the two drivers from seeing each other's approach.

Dr. Fuller's machine was turned upside down and the occupants were thrown out. Mrs. Georgy's skull was fractured and her ribs broken. She died at the hospital last night.

It is easy and inexpensive to have nice, soft hair and lots of it. Just get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Dandarine now—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance; freshness, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and lustre, and try as you will you cannot find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp—Dandarine is, we believe, the only sure hair grower; destroyer of dandruff and cure for itchy scalp and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Dandarine and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise awaits everyone who tries this.

PRES. ALDEN CRITICIZED FOSS

At Annual Convention of Mass. Branch of the American F. of L. Opened at Fall River Today

FALL RIVER, Sept. 15.—"Never before in the history of the state, I believe, has such a chaotic condition existed in regard to the enforcement of the labor laws," said President E. S. Alden of Holyoke in presenting his report to the Massachusetts branch of the American Federation of Labor at the opening of its convention here today. In this connection President Alden criticized Governor Foss. The governor was also attacked for his attitude in the recent strike at his manufacturing plants at Hyde Park.

Among the recommendations made by President Alden was one to abolish the legislative committee of the state branch.

"I believe," said the president, "that out legislative work should be taken care of by a person competent to perform it who should be termed a legislative agent and be under the instruction and guidance of the executive council and the executive council in turn be directly responsible to the convention."

Opposes Compulsory Arbitration

Opposition was also voiced by President Alden against any legislation providing for compulsory arbitration.

"We believe in conciliation and arbitration," said the president, "and will go to great length and suffer much to obtain it before striking. But we must fight any effort to take from us the legal right to quit work whenever we wish for any reason or for no reason. The right under the law to strike must be maintained."

In touching the workmen's compensation act, President Alden said:

"We should take action at this convention looking to the amendment of the workmen's compensation law to provide that medical assistance and hospital bills should be paid during the entire time the patient is in the hospital or under a physician's care. Also that compensation should commence from the date of injury if the injury last for a period longer than two weeks."

Labor Movement Strong

"The labor movement of the state was never in such good condition," said the president in summarizing the reports of other officers. He pointed out that the report of Secretary-Treasurer Martin T. Joyce showed:

"At the close of the fiscal year 1913 we had on hand $1,122. We assumed an obligation of $1,300 for the year 1913 that represented the salary of the new office of permanent secretary. We come to this convention with all our running expenses and legislative expenses paid up and a balance of $2,660."

During the past year there have been 112 affiliations of various unions with the state branch and no suspensions, according to the report of the secretary-treasurer.

The legislative committee's report states that of the 24 measures presented to the legislature through their efforts 14 were successful. Some that the committee considered the most important, such as the initiative and referendum, recall of judicial decisions, woman's suffrage, popular election of judges, tax exemption of $2,000 on homesteads, barbers' license bill were among those that did not pass.

Lowell Delegate Attends

Mr. Edward Donnelly of Cross street left this city yesterday for Fall River, where he is to attend the convention of the Massachusetts branch of American Federation of Labor, as a delegate of the local branch of the Street Railway union. Mr. Donnelly is employed as a conductor by the Bay State Street Railway and has held an important office in the union for many years.

On his arrival at Fall River the local delegate was welcomed to the city by Mayor James H. Kay. The sessions of the convention will be held in the Anawan hall and Mr. Donnelly will be present at all in the interest of the Lowell men.

MURDERED 3 PEOPLE POLICE COURT GASES

Man Opened Fire on Wife's Family

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 15.—Charged with murdering his wife's father, mother and 16-year-old brother early today, Edward Baxter, 35 years old, a telephone lineman, is being sought by the police of this city.

Baxter and his wife had been separated several months. Early this morning it is alleged Baxter went to the home of his wife's father, Henry Smith, where Mrs. Baxter has been staying, and opened fire on the family. Mrs. Baxter succeeded in eluding her husband and escaped from the house.

4 KILLED IN EXPLOSION

Six Families Buried in in Ruins

COBURG, Germany, Sept. 15.—Four persons were killed and six others injured during the night by the collapse of a tenement house caused by a gas explosion. Six families were buried in the ruins and it was not known definitely this morning whether more victims were beneath the debris on which a force of soldiers and firemen were working.

The explosion, which occurred in the gas main in the centre of the street was so violent that it lifted the house bodily several feet. Fire then broke out and several of the injured were badly burned.

The members of the B. F. Butler Veteran Firemen's association are getting ready for the muster to be held at Brockton soon, and Saturday afternoon they held a practice drill on the North common. The Lowell boys expect to return to Lowell with the first prize.

RECESSIONS

IN MANY CASES AT THE MARKET OPENING TODAY

Howard Tendency Among Leaders—Selling by Foreign Holders Continued—Market Closed Easy

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The extended rise of stocks last week led to profit-taking sales at the opening today and the favorable shares were in sufficient volume to bring about recessions in many cases. Although the tendency among the leaders was downward, further gains were made in a number of cases, giving the list as a whole an irregular tone. Reading rose a point, following a similar gain in London, but quickly lost half of its advantage. Heavy realization of Canadian Pacific forced it back 2 points. Union Pacific and Virginia-Central lost a point each. After the first transactions the market stiffened but the support was not sturdy enough to altogether check the decline.

The scarcity of stocks in the closing days of last week, which forced the bears to retreat, was no longer the governing feature of the market when this week's trading began. Liberal supplies from all sources effectively checked efforts to put prices higher. The recent rise apparently readjusted an oversold condition and the market was not in a condition to assimilate the heavy offerings on profit-taking sales. Some minor shares gave an exhibition of strength but the market generally was under pressure. Lack of confirmation of the rumors put out to explain the advance in U. P., Reading and Can. Pac. made buyers cautious and the fact that large speculative interests were supplying stocks was sufficient inducement to the bears to begin selling.

Selling by foreign holders who unloaded stocks here on the rise last week was continued today in sufficient volume to constitute an important influence during the morning's decline. After pressure from this source had ceased the market hardened and early afternoon prices in some cases were above Saturday's close. Few industrial stocks were strong. Can. Pac. was active and gained two points. Harvest rose 2 1/2 and American Tobacco 3 points. Increased speculative activity, with the heavier requisitions on the money market which it involved was an influence in the stiffening of money rates today. Quotations for all periods were one-quarter cent higher and three per cent was more generally asked for day to day accommodations.

The market closed easy. The bears were active in the late dealing and succeeded in uncovering some weekly margin accounts. Lowest prices were made for the most of the representative stocks with particular heftiness in Steel and Union Pacific. Reading went back below Saturday's close and Can. Pac. reacted two points when the general pressure became too severe.

REV. APPLETON GRANNIS

Says Christianity's Plea
is to the Individual

FROM THE DEPTHS OF THEIR OWN NATURE

Christ Tried to Awaken New Desires to All With Whom He Came in Contact

At St. Anne's church, Sunday morning, Rev. Appleton Grannis preached from the text: "The Kingdom of God is Within You." In part he said:

When Christ came, he made his appeal distinctively to the individual. From the depths of their own nature he tried to awaken in all with whom he came in contact new desires and new hopes and ambitions. He sought to deliver them from the strife of the passions they had served. And he has shown and his best disciples have also proved it to me, that if the true congenial soul of any single soul can be reached and touched, even the dead will be alive again and the lost will be found. Thus making his appeal to the individual, and striking to bind in him a conscientious spirit. Jesus Christ has revolutionized all society. And this man who had in his gospel no scheme of government has yet insinuated the development of all the world's systems of law and administration. He had no defined policy of social regeneration, yet under the spell of his influence, slavery has been abolished, and the rights of woman have been established. He wrote no treatise on political economy, but all commerce has been affected by his power. He painted no pictures, carved no statues, and wrote no music, but music and art have caught their deepest inspiration from his life.

No one denies the right of the state to readjust things, protect the rights of the weaker and carry on its many and beneficial works of reform, and see to it that they constitute a fitting school for just and righteous habits. These duties are too clear to be for a moment questioned. What is asserted is that this church is not primarily a school for instructing men in questions of trade and finance and taxation, and settling social problems. It has been to the injury of the church in the past that men slightly versed in political economy and sociology have outlined schemes of reform which have proved unwise, injurious and ill-timed. When the preacher has become merely political, it is because he has lost grip of religion.

But to the spiritual agency of the church is must be left to address itself to persons, one by one, to reach the secret springs of better life, and speak for God to the languid but undying conscience of mankind. The church must deal with living persons themselves, and hold them in the presence of sympathy that feels not only for them, but with them.

It recognizes that in such a practical and vital question, for example, as that of marriage and divorce, which affects so profoundly the life and happiness and welfare of the family, the best solution and the only enduring one, consists in building up within the hearts of individual men and women right principles and convictions, and that legislation is, after all, only of secondary importance in accomplishing the desired end.

Therefore it is that Christianity addresses itself to the individual, and its prophecy of success is that it has faith in the spiritual possibilities of every individual.

The Kingdom of God exists whenever a human soul is found which is loyal to Christianity, which seeks for purity and righteousness as the only atmosphere in which it can live, and goes forth in deeds, thoughtfulness and self-sacrifice.

100 AMERICANS HELD FIRE SWEEPS ISLAND HELD SURPRISE PARTY

Fell Into the Hands of Mexican Rebels

Destroyed

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 15.—One hundred Americans, including a number of women and children, refugees from the family, the school and the state. They are not separate, but are linked together. When we turn to the Declaration of Independence, we find it recognizes the existence of the Creator. But the great ordinance of 1787 made for the territories northwest of the Ohio. This great ordinance had great influence in the discussion of slavery. It may have an equally great influence in the discussion whether unchristian religion should be presented in our common schools. In the great state paper, the compact was between the 13 states and the people of the territory, northwest of the Ohio. The compact was to remain "forever unalterable, unless by common consent." The preamble states the object of the compact to be the "extending the fundamental principles of civil and religious liberty, which form the basis wherever those republics, their laws and constitutions, are erected; to fix and establish, as the basis of alliances, constitutions and governments, which forever hereafter shall be formed in said territory; and the third article, which appears in equivalent in the constitutions of all the states formed out of the Northwest territory, is in these words: "Religion, morality and knowledge, being necessary to good government and the happiness of mankind, schools and the means of education shall forever be encouraged." Mark, this is not the language of any sect, religious or political, nor of any theorist, but a solemn national fundamental American law.

This ordinance contains the principles on which the question of religious exercises, including the Bible, is to be settled. It is the necessity of morality to good government, and the happiness of mankind.

It is the right of self-preservation which justifies state recognition of morality and religion. It comes within the police power of the state. Here we are safe.

The report comes from an official source at Saltillo but has not been confirmed. The American embassy has called upon the Mexican foreign office to investigate the matter and do whatever is possible to relieve the Americans should the report prove true.

Senior Gambao, the foreign minister, has had no advices further than the communication from the embassy. He expressed regret, but added that it was no more than might be expected as the result of the "neutrality policy" of the United States, which had hampered the administration in proceeding with a strong hand against rebels and bandits.

Gen. Truzy Aubert, a federal commander, with 1000 men, who is proceeding from the north to the relief of Torreon, is reported to have fallen into the hands of the rebels while proceeding overland to Saltillo. The authorities at Saltillo decline to take the responsibility of sending a force to their rescue, fearing they say, that the rebels might commit atrocities upon the refugees which would possibly otherwise be avoided.

The report comes from an official source at Saltillo but has not been confirmed. The American embassy has called upon the Mexican foreign office to investigate the matter and do whatever is possible to relieve the Americans should the report prove true.

The Americans are headed by Deputy Consul General J. C. Allen of Monterey who went to Torreon to notify American residents there of President Wilson's exit warning. They left Torreon September 1, traveling by the most available conveyances to be had across the plains in the direction of Saltillo, there having been no railroad communication for many weeks. They were passed on the way by J. R. Everett of Palestine, Tex., near Parras, about half way to Saltillo, or approximately 80 miles from Torreon. Everett reached Saltillo September 19 and reported that the caravan was making headway owing to the bad roads and poor equipment.

CARDINAL O'CONNELL
Delivered Short Address at Cathedral—Says Pope Enjoys Wonderful Vigor For One of Such Age

BOSTON, Sept. 15.—At the close of the solemn high mass in the Cathedral of the Holy Cross yesterday morning Cardinal O'Connell, who recently returned from a visit to Rome, delivered a short address to the congregation.

Speaking of the pope's health, the cardinal said "Our holy father enjoys wonderful vigor for one of such age, so advanced in years, but especially with such tremendous burdens to bear, with so many difficulties to surmount and with so many daily trials to face."

"During my stay in Rome he granted me various audiences and appeared almost completely restored to health and strength, and had already begun to take up his work as usual."

Forest Notes

Two million trees will be planted on the national forests in Utah, Nevada and southern Idaho during 1914.

Makers of small Hickory handles for hamers, chisels and the like, are now trying to use the waste from mills which make Hickory spokes and pick-axe handles.

There is much waste in getting out the flawless white oak necessary for tight-barrel staves. The forest service is trying to get manufacturers of parquetry flooring to use some of this waste.

The U. S. consul at Aberdeen, Scotland, thinks that American manufacturers may have a chance to compete in furnishing staves for fish barrels. There has been a recent rise in the price of spruce and fir staves from Sweden and Scotland.

Four new state forests have recently been added to those in Hawaii, making 27 in all, with an aggregate of 63,101 acres. Of this amount, 67 per cent belongs to the territory, the rest being private land administered by the territorial forest officers.
